British Labor Minister Declares 30 Vital Food Cargoes Tied Up; Warns Strike "Hurting Country"

LONDON—Labor Minister George Isaacs said today the ships held up by the strike of more than 8,000 London dock workers include 30 vital food cargoes and warned the strike is "hurting the country."

"This strike is hurting the country and the men cannot escape responsibility for causing this hurt by saying there is a lock-out," he said in the House of Commons. Isaacs added men were acting in breach of their agreements and it was "nothing but a Communist manoeuvre" to pretend there was any other explanation.

Latest official figures showed 88 ships have been left idle by 8,336 longshoremen supporting the strike by the Canadian Seamen's Union.

British railway men, meanwhile, called off their scheduled country-wide slowdown of state-owned rail system in their drive for a 10-shilling ($2) a week pay raise.

ARMED FORCES VOTE MAKES NO CHANGE

OTTAWA—Canada's armed forces voted just like the rest of the country—only more so. Voting made no change in the party standings.

Liberals polled 13,977 votes of the 22,714 cast, Progressive Conservatives 5,316 and the C.C.F., 294. Other parties got 564, including 32 votes for the Labor Progressive Party, Canada's Communists.

Canadian Press tabulation of regular voting on June 27 gave the Liberals 49.7 per cent of the total popular vote, the PCs 30 per cent.

Final standing in the 262-member Commons is: Liberals 192; Progressive Conservatives 42; C.C.F. 13; Social Credit 10; Independents 4; Independent-Liberal 1.

CANADA'S LIVING INDEX AT NEW HIGH

OTTAWA—Canada's cost of living zoomed to an all-time record during the month of May, jumping up a whole point to 160.5.

The Bureau of Statistics reported today that between May 2 and June 1 the cost of living index eclipsed the previous peak by nine-tenths of a point. Previous high was 159.6—established last October and equalled in November, 1948, and January this year.

SALMON FISHING HIT BY DISPUTE

VANCOUVER—Salmon fishermen are still in port today and fishing companies still are insisting they will not sanction boats they own or charter to sell to "pirate buyers." Fishermen, who normally head north the first week of July, seek permission to sell their catches to the highest bidder. Rates of minimum prices for fish already have been settled.

United Fishermen's and Allied Workers' Union seeks an arrangement where, even though working on company-owned or chartered boats, fishermen may sell to the highest bidder—even if the firm for which they work offers a lower price.

Operators contended that under existing regulations they would pay a higher-than-minimum price if the market shifts upward.

82 CANADIANS DIE OVER HOLIDAY

OTTAWA—Violent deaths befell 82 Canadians during the long Dominion Day holiday week-end. Canadian Press compilation of fatalities reported between midnight Thursday and early today showed 46 drownings, 21 deaths in highway crashes, two in a plane smash and 13 from a variety of causes.

B.C.'s holiday traffic death toll was six with a seventh victim in critical condition in hospital. Dead are: John Kulunycz, 55, Vancouver; Frank W. Barnes, 25, Chilliwack; Evan Parry, 82, Vancouver; Leonard Walmsley, 42, Vancouver; Harold Wood, 22, Aldergrove; Kenneth Biollo, 3, Kamloops.

In poor condition in Chilliwack Hospital is Patrick Heaton, 26, of Vancouver.

SEVEN DIE IN WASH. HOTEL FIRE

ABERDEEN, Wash.—Crackling flames brought a fiery death to seven persons and injured six others early yesterday in a combination masonry-frame residential hotel. The fire broke out shortly before 3 a.m. in the lobby of the Lafayette Hotel. Cause still is unknown.

Eighteen of approximately three dozen guests escaped on ladders run up to the windows. Others leaped to the roof of an adjoining building.

Dead are identified as Mrs. May Kearns, 74; Mrs. Eliza Bessers; Mary A. Beshire; Hugh Rogers, a paralytic; Paul Myhr, hotel proprietor, and a couple tentatively identified as Mr. and Mrs. Earl Christofferson.

BRITONS FACE EVEN HARDER TIMES

LONDON—The London press today told Britons that Britain had gone in the hole £152,000,000 ($608,000,000) despite 15 months of Marshall Plan aid. The press warned the austerity-plagued Britons they are up against much harder times.

Newspapers asserted Britain's and the sterling areas' gold and dollar reserves—a working balance for the day-in-day-out trade—have shrunk to £400,000,000 pounds from £552,000,000 when the Marshall Plan aid began.

CLAIM REDS CENSURE GERMAN MAIL

BERLIN—The west Berlin government today drafted a request to the western powers to intervene against Russian diversion of the city mail.

German officials charged that Soviet General Vladimir Petrov had issued orders forcing all railway mail cars from western Germany to be unloaded at a Russian sector office where censorship was exercised. Allied air lift has been bringing in eight tons of Berlin mail daily but the remainder comes by train.

TWO DIE WHEN PLANE NOSE DIVES

LAMAR, Colo.—Two men were killed today when their light plane crashed on a nearby ranch. The craft smashed nose first into the ground.

Dead are Wilbur Pottorf, 25, and his uncle, Orville Pottorf, 28.

U.S. MIGHT SLOW RED EXPANSION

WILLIAMSBURG, Va.—Communist expansion in Europe has been halted by the growing military strength of United States, a former American ambassador to Russia said today.

"By constant re-organization, our armed forces are approaching a semblance of military strength consistent with our world position and commitments," said Lt.-Gen. Bedell Smith, now commanding general of the First Army.

"If reports from far-flung battle fronts where the cold war of ideas is being waged for men's minds are encouraging. We must not be so fatuous as to believe that ideas alone are adequate weapons," Smith said in a prepared speech.

Ogopogo Seen On Okanagan

That elusive monster of the deep—Ogopogo—who has been romping in the blue waters of the Okanagan for many years—has been seen again, and, judging from the number of people who witnessed the spectacle—he's definitely out there in the lake. Honest!

Eight people saw the famed monster. Several sections of his body, each one about seven feet long, were quite visible to the naked eye. What's more, some of the eye witnesses were some of Kelowna's most respected citizens. One even had time to dart back into his house to obtain a pair of field glasses and he got a bird's-eye view.

L. L. Kerry was the first person to see the monster. He was standing on his dock, overlooking the lake, preparing to take visitors out in his boat, when he first sighted Mr. Ogo. Kerry shouted to his next door neighbor, Dr. A. S. Underhill, and he and his wife had little trouble seeing the strange object. It had moved further from the shore, but several sections of his snake-like body were visible above the water to the naked eye.

Using a pair of field glasses, Dr. Underhill declared the various sections of the monster's body appeared smooth and black. They were about seven feet long and would disappear under the water and come out again further away. As Ogo's body was never entirely out of the water, he could not estimate the thickness of the coils. They protruded about a foot above the surface, he declared.

One thing puzzled Dr. Underhill. Several sections of Ogo's body appeared much too far away to belong to the same animal. He had no explanation other than to suggest Ogopogo must have had his field glass along with him.

"I don't know whether or not it was Ogopogo," he said. "I have never seen him. I do know that there was something large and unnatural out there. I have lived on the lake for many years and have seen logs, debris, etc., that have given the impression of some animal. I know vision over the water is deceptive, but I also know that I saw something through the glasses Saturday evening. If it wasn't Ogopogo, it was certainly something unnatural. It was not fish, and it moved too quickly for logs or debris, I saw the hoops."

Mrs. Underhill confirmed her husband's statement. "I was dumb-founded at seeing Ogopogo after all these years," she stated. "When I first saw the monster, it was only about 100 yards off shore, but in a few moments, it was 300 yards further out. At no time did we see the head," she concluded.

Other witnesses to the incident were Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Watson, of Montreal, who are spending a two week visit in this city with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Watson. They were going out with Mr. Kerry in his boat when they saw the strange object. Mr. Watson said he first saw the ribbon-like objects 300 to 400 yards off shore. "They were broken and some distance apart as they serpentine through the water," he stated. "They moved with amazing speed. We followed them out in the rowboat, but couldn't get anywhere near the broken coils. The coils would disappear under water only to reappear in an instant over 300 yards away."

Giving his version of the spectacle, Mr. Kerry thought the body was about eight inches in diameter with a skin-like covering, and of dark olive green in color, similar to the back of a large trout.

He said it appeared to be heading diagonally across the lake toward the Rotary beach. There seemed to be a large number of fish in the vicinity breaking on the surface of the water.

One Major Accident Mars Holiday Weekend As People Take To Highways

ONLY one major accident marred the July 1 holiday as hundreds of local people took advantage of the extremely warm weather to hit the highways or attend Dominion Day celebrations arranged in Kelowna and district.

Other than the head-on automobile collision Saturday night on the Vernon highway, which sent three people to hospital, police reported a fairly quiet weekend. All popular picnic spots were swarmed with people, while scores took advantage of the long weekend to visit their favorite fishing spots.

Injured in the Saturday night collision were Mike Stochhoff, Glenmore, and his passenger, John Bolonoff, and Eric K. Kramer, 1334 St. Paul street. Police report Stochhoff was proceeding south on the highway about 75 yards north of the Night Owl Cafe when the collision occurred. Police have not yet interviewed Kramer, and have not definitely established who was driving the other vehicle. The auto, however, was owned by Kramer. He is believed to have been carrying one or two passengers. The crash occurred at 11:50 p.m. Saturday.

$500 Damage
Rushed to hospital, Kramer and Bolonoff are said to have shown improvement. Stochhoff has since been released.
Total of $500 damage was done to both cars. The Stochhoff car has since been impounded as the owner did not have insurance.
Another minor accident occurred in the City Park over the weekend when two cars, driven by L. E. Durfy and P. E. Schimpf, side-swiped one another. Two other vehicles, owned by C. A. Peebles, Kelowna, and Rubin Krebs, Winfield, were involved in a minor accident on Bernard avenue.

TWO KELOWNA DOCTORS PASS EXAMINATIONS

Two Kelowna men were among the 495 doctors who have passed Medical Council of Canada examinations according to an announcement made over the week-end. The Kelowna men are John Yoshio and Otto Wahl.

George Athans, Canadian diving ace from Vancouver, who has represented Canada at two Olympics, and who has given numerous diving performances at Kelowna regattas, was also among the 60 British Columbia men who passed examinations. The springboard star wrote his examinations last May in Toronto after receiving his medical degree from McGill University.

Gordon Clark, of Penicton, and Murray Williams, Princeton, were two other interior men successful in examinations.

S. R. SUTHERLAND FUNERAL RITES ON TUESDAY

Funeral service for Stanley Ruthin Sutherland, 748 Bernard Avenue, who passed away in hospital here on Friday, July 1, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 from the chapel of Day's Funeral Service, Rev. D. M. Perley, United Church, officiating. Pallbearers will be Dennis Reid, Herb Orton, Sam Godfrey, R. P. Hughes, G. A. Bickford and Mr. Lundgren.

Mr. Sutherland's 22-year-old mother, accompanied by her son, Lloyd Sutherland, brother of the late Stanley R. Sutherland, arrived from Los Angeles for the funeral service. The late Mr. Sutherland came to Kelowna from Los Angeles about a year and a half ago. He was born in Halifax, N.S.

Also surviving are his wife, two sons, Colin, of Kelowna and Murray, of Vancouver; four daughters, Edith Wake and Mabel Dilbert, both of High River; Rena Waterston, and Helen Agostino, both of Vancouver.

Four sisters, Mrs. George Valance, and Mrs. Eva Smith, both of Los Angeles; Mrs. A. Leonard of Pasco, Wash., and Mrs. L. Baird, of New York, also survive.

Building in Rural Areas Continues on High Level

Construction in Kelowna regulated area during the month of June was valued at $73,555, according to figures released today by O. V. M. Roxby, building inspector. During the corresponding month last year building values totaled $405,770; but included in this figure was the $337,815 Rutland high school.

Total of 11 new residences were built at a value of $52,200; six private garages, $2,400; while alterations to buildings cost around $8,105.

About 50 Entries Have Been Received for Interior Lawn Tennis Meet

ENDS SATURDAY

Draw Will Be Made Tonight; Semi-Finals Friday and Finals Saturday

Quality without quantity will keynote the revival here this week of the Interior of B.C. Lawn Tennis Championships.

Some 50 entries were on hand when the deadline for entries came off Saturday night. Only one entry came in on time from outside the province, and none submitted from clubs in Vernon, Kamloops, Summerland or Penticton.

Sole out-of-the-province entry is a man well-known to Kelowna hockey fans. He is John "Cowboy" Maddock, who returned to his home in Edmonton after his stint with the Kelowna Packers.

Sixteen of the Pacific Coast's top netters—12 from Vancouver and four from Victoria—make up the largest single group of outsiders to take in the 19th annual tournament, brought to life again after a lapse during the war.

Stiff competition in the men's singles is expected from R. S. Sutherland of Trail, West Kootenay singles champ. He is being accompanied to Kelowna by B. Renison, Trail, president of the Tadanac Lawn Tennis Club.

H. G. M. Gardner, Kelowna, tournament chairman, announced the draw will be made tonight. The meet will get under way tomorrow morning with the semi-finals set for Friday and the finals for Saturday.

ACCEPT OFFER FOR BOULEVARD TREES IN CITY

City Council has been advised that Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation would be willing to replace boulevard trees which have died since they were planted.

A survey made by the city engineering department showed that the Siberian Elm trees stand the rigors of winter more than maple trees. Total of 79 trees would be required to replace those which have died.

Council has decided to accept the housing corporation's offer to supply the trees. The city will undertake to plant them next spring.

Council is also appealing to residents to keep the trees watered in front of their homes during the extremely warm weather.

RUTLAND CHILD PASSES AWAY

Mervin Joseph Meier, four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Meier, died in the Kelowna hospital July 2.

Born in Unity, Sask., he is survived by his parents, one sister, Lucille and one brother, Raymond. Funeral services were conducted from the Rutland Catholic Church Saturday at 9 a.m. Father De Lestre officiating. Day's Funeral Service was in charge of arrangements.

Sgt. Black, who is a Courier newspaper carrier, will leave Kelowna for Edmonton towards the latter part of July. There he will board a transport of the U.S. Army Air Force which will be his mode of transportation for the next two weeks. The cadets will travel with officer status and be received wherever they stop en route as diplomatic representatives of Canada. The trip will probably take them as far away as Washington D.C. and Texas where they will meet and be entertained by high government officials in their government buildings and by wealthy cattle ranchers and oil magnates on their fabulous estates.

On their return to Canada, the cadets will meet their friends from the U.S. at a grand banquet in Calgary who have been similarly touring Canada for a period of two weeks.

The Danger of Big Majorities

In commenting upon the federal election results on Thursday last this column remarked that one of the unfortunate results of the voting was the over-large majority the Liberal Government will have in the House of Commons, which has resulted in the virtual elimination of any effective opposition.

The same condition exists in British Columbia, where the Coalition, if the total opposition could be mustered against it, would be opposed by only eight votes. The Coalition has governed well, and may be expected to continue doing so in its third term of office. The C.C.F. thoroughly deserved its defeat. But that does not alter the fact that a situation in which the governing party can do as it pleases, without fear of an adverse vote in the Legislature or Commons, is unbalanced and unhealthy.

The essence of the two-party system of government—and a better system has yet to be devised—is that the party in power should have reason to respect the party in opposition. Only in this way can the public be assured that the government will rule for the benefit of the people as a whole, and not merely to please its own supporters.

No government is infallible; but a government with a majority so enormous that it can do as it pleases almost invariably begins to think that it is infallible. One of the principal duties of any opposition is to prevent the government from making a fool of itself and the voter; but an opposition so small that it can never hope to threaten the position of the party in power is helpless—and so is the public.

There is an example in Alberta, where the Social Credit party long since got out of the habit of regarding the Legislature as anything but a rubber stamp. It applies equally in Saskatchewan, where a good many of the more stupid experiments in doctrinaire socialism might have been prevented if the opposition had been stronger.

Stable government is one thing; elected dictatorship—which is what these enormous majorities amount to in effect—is quite another. At least one of the reasons for the apathy of the voters, of which there is so much complaint, is the voter's helpless feeling that he has no real voice in the control of the nation's affairs. And this feeling, in turn, results from his conviction that the government always does as it pleases and that there is no way of preventing it.

Paging Mr. St. Laurent

With the thumping majority the Liberals now have in the House of Commons there are three things, at least, this newspaper would like to see them do:

1. Have a good national song written so we could stop singing that awful dirge "O Canada";
2. Officially confirm the Red Ensign with coat of arms as the Canadian flag;
3. Have statutory holidays, excepting Christmas, New Year, Good Friday and Easter, celebrated on the Monday nearest the actual date.

Regarding Number 1, the need for a national anthem is obvious. "O Canada" is no more our national anthem than is the "Maple Leaf" or "Pistol Packing Mama." And it warrants no greater respect. It is simply a patriotic song and there is no need to stand while singing it. It is not suitable as a national anthem on any count. There are a number of versions but the English version, the Weir, is nothing but a spiritless dirge, whereas a national anthem surely should have some life and spirit.

As for the flag question, this has been kicked about much too long. A House of Commons committee a few years ago, after careful study, did recommend the Red Ensign with the coat of arms on the fly. The session ended before the bill was passed and Mr. MacKenzie King, pursuing his usual diplomatic tactics of avoiding trouble—in this case antagonizing Quebec—never revived the question, although government public buildings now fly the Red Ensign. Perhaps it is too much to hope that Mr. St. Laurent will clarify the position. Maybe we are optimistic but we hope we see in the election results that the Quebec opposition would be more vociferous than strong.

The question of public holidays, too, should be examined and clarified. Holidays coming in the middle of the week play the devil with business and most of them could be celebrated with just as much enthusiasm if they were marked on the nearest Monday or Saturday. This current week is a good example. July 1 fell on a Friday. Had this holiday been shifted to Monday, a long week-end would have resulted for hundreds of thousands of people. As it was it was just an off-day when no real holiday plans could be made. In addition the Friday holiday disrupted businesses of all kinds and this disruption would have been considerably less had it simply been a long week-end.

In this question at least there would seem to be no question of sectional differences of opinion, and there would seem to be slight argument against it. On the other hand the advantages are great. Please, Mr. St. Laurent, do something about it.

British Newspapers Okayed

A British Royal Commission in a 250,000 word report, which took twenty-six months to complete, has rejected all proposals for government control of the press. It stressed that the rarity of subsidies was one of the notable features of the British newspaper industry. It refuted suggestions that political bias constantly operated in the industry.

The commission found no evidence of pressure being brought on newspapers by advertisers to obtain either omission or insertion of news items and it considered unnecessary any legislation to break up "chains" of newspapers.

Allegations along these lines were part of the case of left-wing interests in the British Labor Party and in the section of the press supporting the Labor Government. The House of Commons had voted in October, 1946, for an investigation in "the finance, control, management and ownership of the press." The government appointed the Royal Commission and it began its work in April, 1947.

The commission held that the British press was "inferior to none in the world" and that "both those who own the press and those who are employed on it would universally condemn the acceptance or soliciting of bribes."

This British Royal Commission report is of interest in Canada because much the same charges made against the British press have been currently made against Canadian newspapers. When a newspaper has the courage to take a stand on some public question it is an easy and usual tactic for those it opposes to charge it "is in the pay of big interests."

Newspaper men are generally men of considerable integrity and have a code of ethics higher than that of the average man on the street, because they have a responsibility. There is no reason to believe that Canadian newspapers would not merit the remarks of the British Royal Commission about the newspapers of that country.

Just over the St. Lawrence River on its way from Montreal to Newport, Vt., is diesel engine 4000, first of 23 diesel units ordered by the Canadian Pacific for their main line operation from Montreal to Wells River, Vt.

The locomotive, shown above, is made up of two units, each supplying 1,500 horsepower and is capable of hauling loads of more than 2,200 tons in the heavy grades on the C.P.R. lines through the Green Mountains of Vermont. The units above are geared for freight service, but passenger locomotives will be ready in the fall to complete dieselization of the 171-mile stretch of track.

r.p.m.'s column

Kelowna, June 29th, 1949.
The Editor,
Kelowna Courier.

My attention has been drawn to an open letter in your paper signed by yourself and addressed to Mr. O. L. Jones, M.P., and published under date of June 27th.

In the preamble to your attack on Mr. Jones you mention me personally as being one of Mr. Jones' "over-zealous supporters" who has made untrue statements on the radio concerning the services rendered by Mr. Jones to this riding.

Having checked my radio speech with Mr. Jones, I have failed to find out a single item which can not be substantiated or in any way untrue.

Under the circumstances I would suggest that you publish complete quotations from any radio addresses concerning Mr. Jones which are in any way untrue or distorted.

Failing this, it would appear obvious that the only course open for a fair minded person to rectify your accusations through the columns of your paper.

Yours etc,
J. F. Hampson.

Dear Mr. Hampson:
As far as your radio address is concerned I was misinformed. I made a mistake in an endeavor to identify a radio address in using your name.

This is a very good example of the difficulty the average person has in correctly reporting the messages of the ear. Five different people reported to me that you had said "such and such." But apparently you did not.

I have been unable to find an address of yours where you mentioned the matters under discussion in my letter to Mr. Jones. Westbank development, Kelowna post office, Kelowna breakwater, radio interference, etc.

In one instance you did say "He has been most active in the great problem of flood control in the Okanagan Valley." That is a fair enough statement. The Courier, too, has been most active in this matter but it does not take credit for the implementation of the report. Your remark is reasonable enough.

In speaking of post offices, you avoid mention of the Kelowna post office. Fair enough. The mailing piece did include Kelowna.

Your remarks about Mr. Jones actively regarding the marketing act were fair enough, too, I admit. Apparently they read quite differently than they sounded! Certainly, you made no suggestion that Mr. Jones was responsible for the passing of the act.

I'm sorry your name was dragged into this discussion and I am glad to be able to say that as far as the particular items discussed in my first letter to Mr. Jones are concerned, any remarks you may have made were quite fair. I had not been able to obtain a transcript of your address until after receiving your letter, or the mistake would not have been made.

I think, however, you will agree with me that the interjection of yourself and your radio address in my first letter to Mr. Jones was simply incidental. That letter was primarily concerned with the mailing broadside and, as yet, I have been unable to find that my comments regarding it were incorrect in any degree. While wrong about your own remarks, my comments about the mailing piece still stand. You, I am sure, were not responsible for that.

Sincerely,

Well, this column doesn't like to boast and the election is a thing of the past, but we are feeling rather pleased with ourselves. Eight bets made and eight won. Not a bad record. The amount involved was not large, just enough to record the bets, but the fun was there. On the local contest there were two: one for Jones to win and one for McDowell to lose his deposit. Then there was one made in Ottawa in March, 1948, that the Pro Cons would not form the next government, and one that the Liberals would form the next government, another that they would obtain about half the house and one that they would have more than 150 seats. In addition there were three on the provincial election: one on the local vote and two on the provincial results, one that the Coalition would have at least 40 seats, which they did. If I could pick the ponies as well as election results, I would have a much easier way of earning a living than newspaper work!

To be fearless and objective is an achievement in the writing business. It is an achievement for a human being, beset as we all are with countless little biases, to take the cold facts and lay them on the line. A thousand little inhibitions stare up at us from our typewriters. They say don't use this and don't use that. The facts are in hand, but sometimes it takes a matter of cool determination to put them in print. To be objective, also, is an achievement. We are born with emotions and we easily acquire prejudices. It is natural to coddle, pamper and nurse them until they turn on us and boss us, and lash us into a daily shriek. To see the facts through this haze of emotion, to let them filter through, to keep still and let the facts do the talking—that if you've never tried it, is an achievement.

"Elephantiasis of the occipital lobe." That is just another name for "swelled head." It was used by Knute Rockne when talking to his football players. He said it was a most dangerous malady, rendering the victim practically helpless as a football player, until he was cured. The serum treatment used by Rockne consisted of the ridicule of his teammates, the student body and the boy's best girl. Rockne was always suspicious of the player who formed the habit of looking into the grandstand.

Now that swimming is again the vogue among the younger fry, parents should have the responsibility of impressing upon them that they should swim in safe places. We want no drowning accidents here this summer. Parents should impress upon their children the following safety rules: The best place to swim is at the Aquatic; don't go in swimming alone; don't go in the water directly after a meal; have always one competent, strong swimmer on the shore; never swim at right angles to the shoreline as, by swimming parallel to it you remain within easy reach should you need help. Strict observance of the above simple rules would go far towards removing the hazards of swimming.

TIGERS EKE OUT BRUINS, TIGERS 12-11 VERDICT STAKE PRESTIGE OVER KAMLOOPS TUESDAY NIGHT

Vernon Boxla Squad Now Only One Game Behind Loop-leading Bruins

(Special to The Kelowna Courier) VERNON—With Stan Mills stepping into the limelight with a goal in the late stages of a clean but hard fought game, the Vernon Tigers Thursday night extended their victory streak to three games and grabbed a stranglehold on second place in the interior senior B lacrosse loop with a 12-11 decision over the Kamloops Young Liberals in Civic Arena.

The Vernon triumph left the Tigers only one game behind the league-leading Kelowna Bruins. Tough, rugged but surprisingly clean checking by both teams highlighted the contest and it wasn't until the second quarter that any one visited the penalty stall. Kamloops' Dick Kennedy and Tigers' Bob Prentice squared off at each other and were shelved for five minutes.

Mills skipped in for five goals on eight shots, while his linemate Sarge Sammartino scored three and helped on three others. Kamloops' scoring was well divided throughout the lineup with Mickey McDonald, Fred Davies, Bob Monahan and Al McDonald chalking up two markers each.

"Friendly" Grudge Game Booked for Memorial Arena On Open League Night

Though there is no interior senior B boxla fixture scheduled for this coming Tuesday, sports fans who have come to regard Tuesday nights as hockey and lacrosse nights will not be disappointed. Vernon Tigers and Kelowna Bruins both have agreed to renew their feud in Memorial Arena tomorrow night with nothing at stake but prestige. Result of the fixture, billed for 8:30 p.m. will not affect the league standing.

Kelowna, Oliver Both Win To Stay Tied For Fourth

BREWSTER 2; KELOWNA 6

WITH half of the Kelowna Elks' Baseball Club's pitching insurance paying off two ways here Sunday, the Red Sox edged closer to the top lead and set the stage for the battle of the year here on Wednesday.

Sox' 6-2 victory over Brewster in an Okanagan Valley (intermediate) Baseball League game yesterday and Oliver's 11-0 shutout over Tonasket at Oliver, left the two Canadian squads still knotted in the league standings, both with six wins and four losses.

Sole possession of the fourth rung will go to the victor here Wednesday evening when Oliver comes to Kelowna for that oft-postponed game that has been the subject of dispute and harangue since it was called off on May 1. Game time is 6:15.

Sunday's league victory here was a personal triumph for 18-year-old Irwin Lavorato in his first league appearance with the Red Sox. Though wild at times, Kelowna's second southpaw on the four-man hurling roster set the Brewsterites down with five hits and had a perfect day at the plate himself with two singles and a double and scoring the first run of the game.

First Home Run

The blond portlander, slightly nervous in his local debut, but working hard all the way, had a three-hit shutout right up to the last inning. But a double, a single and a wild pitch in that order saw two runs come in to spoil a white-wash job.

Though the Sox fielding was slightly below par, Lavorato's teammates backed him up with some solid hitting, including the first home run of the year in Elks' Stadium. Glen O'Shaughnessy tagged one of 16-year-old Keith Whittinger's pitches in the seventh inning to send the ball clearing the left field fence by a good margin.

Hank Tostenson smashed out a triple to left field and Kenny Stewart, hitting well after a lengthy slump, banged out three singles for five trips to the plate.

For two complete innings, Fordan Taber kept pace with Lavorato in a strictly left-handed affair. But in the third Lavorato first at bat, doubled to start the snowballing that eventually saw Taber taken out in the fifth in favor of youthful Whittinger, a right-hander. Sox scored once in the third, once in the fourth and three times in the fifth—all charged to Taber.

Coulee Now Leads

Probably the closest league battle of all yesterday and the most interesting to valley fans as a whole came off at Kamloops when the Legion and Grand Coulee fought it out for the loop leadership.

Victory and the top rung went to Grand Coulee with a 7-6 triumph over Kamloops Legion. Coulee garnered 13 hits off Plasteras to account for the win.

At Oliver, the Elks had little trouble shutting out the Tonasket nine. Eddie Steffin was the winning pitcher. Pat Gibb and Jim Lowe smashed out homers. Penticton remained in nine spot, just one step ahead of Oroville when they lost a 9-2 verdict to Omak at Penticton. The home-towners committed 14 errors while outbidding the visitors 9-7.

Result of the Bridgeport at Oroville game was not available at this writing.

"SOX ON WAY TO PENNANT," SAYS MURRAY

Local Baseball Squad Now Has Strong Pitching Staff

Pitching worries for Dick Murray, coach of the Elks-sponsored Kelowna Red Sox, seem to be over. "We're all set now to win the league championship," Murray predicted late last week upon the arrival of two youthful chuckers—a southpaw and a right-hander.

First to be unfolded to local fandom was portlander Irwin Lavorato, who took over in the ninth inning of the second game in the Kinsmen Dominion Day tournament at Atholite Oval.

Lavorato is a blonde, 18-year-old kid, lean and tall, who has been chucking ball in good company in the Kootenays for the past four years. He was highly recommended by ballmen in the Trail-Rossland area.

Pete Scott, 19-year-old right-arm, comes from Vancouver. He strutted his stuff in front of a 1,000 fans in Athletic Oval Friday evening as he held the venerated Kamloops Legion to seven hits and won for Dick Murray's charges the $300 first prize.

Though still able to play junior ball, Scott has been in senior company for the past two years. He acted in several relief roles for the Vancouver Yorks last year and appeared in a few games for the same team this year.

Both newcomers are settling here for the summer at least, Murray said. They started working this week.

With "Lefty" Mike Bakoway and right-hander Wally Lesmeister also on the hurling staff, Murray is confident Kelowna now has the best insurance for the league pennant of all the 10 squads.

Murray also announced last week that Bob Koenig, utility infielder, had been released. Murray said Koenig, without letting Murray know, turned out in uniform for a softball game, and as far as Murray was concerned "softball and baseball don't mix."

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Questions and Answers about Newspaper Advertising

Q. Do you know of any measure for the value of newspaper circulation to an advertiser such as the standards that a business man uses in buying merchandise?

A. Yes. In the well-known standards that have been approved and adopted by advertisers—namely A.B.C. standards.

Q. What is A.B.C.?

A. A.B.C. stands for Audit Bureau of Circulations, a cooperative association of 2000 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada.

Q. What is the Bureau's work?

A. To audit the circulation of newspapers and periodicals so that advertisers can buy space on the basis of definite standards and verified facts and figures.

Q. How does A.B.C. accomplish this?

A. The Bureau has a large staff of experienced auditors. These men visit the publisher members annually and make audits of their circulation records. This information is then published in A.B.C. reports for the use and protection of advertisers.

Q. What do these reports show?

A. A.B.C. reports tell how much circulation a newspaper has, where this circulation is, how it was obtained, how much people paid for it, and many other verified facts that advertisers should know when they buy advertising.

Q. Are all publications eligible for A.B.C. membership?

A. No. Only those with paid circulation. This is important to advertisers because it is the best proof of interest and purchasing power on the part of the readers.

Q. Is this newspaper a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations?

A. Yes. We are proud of our circulation and we want our advertisers to know just what they get for their money when they advertise in our columns. The audited information in our A.B.C. report gives them the complete facts.

ANYTHING A HOUSE IN OIL BOOM TOWN

REDWATER, Alta.—(CP)—Only a short time ago this was a quiet, peaceful hamlet of about 200 population but now it is a town swollen in size by the influx of 2,500 persons living in almost every type of accommodation.

This is the new Redwater, latest oil boom town in the Edmonton district. Redwater is about 35 miles northeast of Edmonton.

Along what once was a small town main street where horses and carts were peacefully tethered, now is heard the steady drum of carpenter's hammers, the churn of cement mixers and the noise of new construction everywhere.

Soon to adorn that once slumberous main street will be a new $100,000 hotel, theatre and modern stores and business establishments. Meantime, however, a light, prefabricated and discarded army hut moved into town has been converted into a cafe.

It is a business that grosses $10,000 a month. There are two other cafes which also do a roaring business.

There is nothing fancy about Redwater. It is a boom town in the rawest form. Trailers, one-room garage-type huts are being hauled into the town and left at the most convenient sites. They arrive day and night as the number of oil employees and construction workers multiplies.

There are homes but only a few new ones and most of the better dwellings were in Redwater before the flow of oil was brought to the surface by Imperial Oil at its discovery well late in 1948.

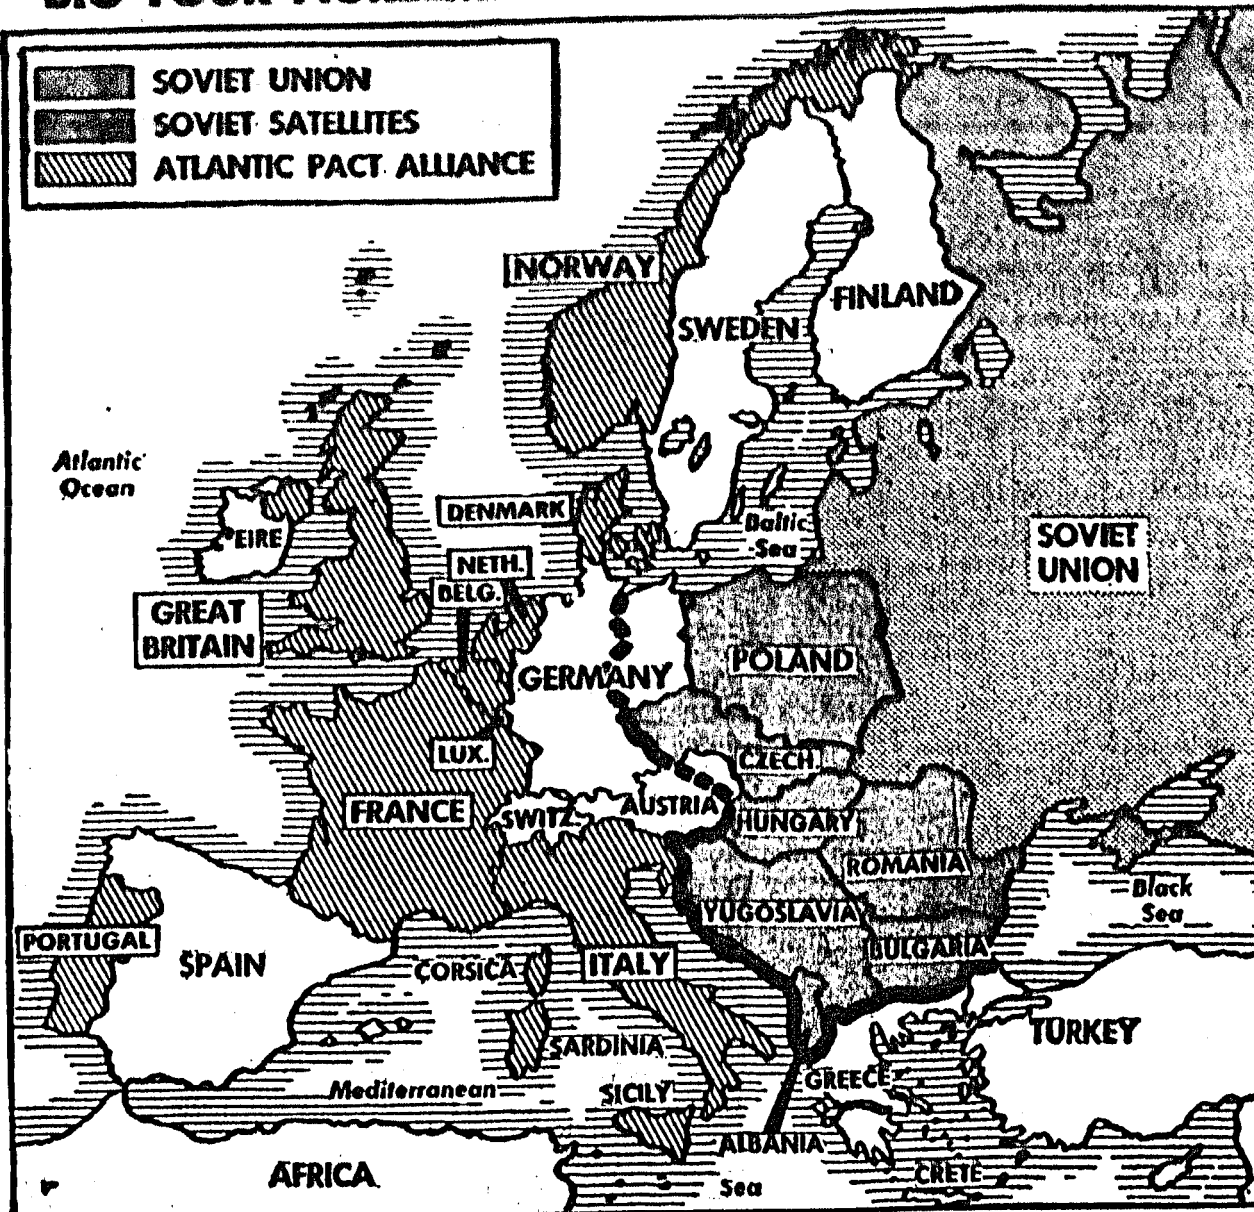

But a town of trailers and huts isn't the ultimate fate of Redwater. Efforts are being made to give the town, now managed by the municipality, legal status of a town and, it is believed, with such a development a more systematic settlement may be conducted.

A juvenile girl motorist was fined $10 when she appeared in juvenile court June 25 on a charge of exceeding the 30 miles an hour in the city.

Bernard Woods (Kelowna), John Woolcock (Victoria).

(Note: when not otherwise stated, candidates are resident in Vancouver)

BIG FOUR AGREEMENT BRINGS EAST-WEST CLOSER

The limited accord reached by the Big Four foreign ministers in Paris on several troublesome problems relating to Berlin, Germany, as a whole and Austria has brought the east and west closer together than diplomats expected, according to foreign observers.

Committee Appointed To Probe Water System In Peachland District

PEACHLAND—Regulations governing the use of water and fire protection in the municipality were discussed at a meeting of ratepayers held in the Municipal Hall last week.

Reeve C. O. Whinton stressed the importance of the meeting, and referred to the new by-law governing operation of domestic water system. He thought a committee should be appointed to make recommendations to improve the service. The present system, a four-inch pipe, has a capacity of 270,000 gallons per day, and under normal circumstances, he thought this should be sufficient. He stated that if the original survey, as laid out by the engineer, had been followed, a lot of trouble would have been eliminated.

Councillor F. Bradley, chairman of the water work committee, submitted figures on steel pipe, pointing out the estimated expenditure would be about $20,000. This covered eight, six, and four inch pipe. Many questions were asked by ratepayers. Some wanted to know if the water system was for irrigation or for domestic water, pointing out that sprinklers were being used in the north end and that there was insufficient water pressure in the south end.

The booster pump, which is designed to equalize pressure at both ends, is not working satisfactorily owing to lack of pressure in the pipe. Committee of seven was formed, consisting of J. T. Garraway, W. E. Clements, F. Topham, Jr., W. L. Sanderson, H. E. Smith, Neil Witt and J. Cameron to investigate prevailing conditions.

Discussion regarding purchasing of fire fighting equipment took place, and it developed that the two questions—domestic water system and fire fighting equipment—were tied together.

If there is not sufficient pressure, there is little use purchasing fire hose, one resident pointed out. It was suggested council construct more hydrants, although it was indicated that some people living on the benches were not interested in fire fighting equipment for the town. Finally, it was decided to purchase 300 feet of new hose.

Members of the W.A. of the United Church journeyed in three cars to Kelowna Wednesday, of last week, to give a surprise party to Mrs. C. C. Duquemin and at the same time present Mrs. Duquemin with a beautiful centerpiece for her table.

Mr. and Mrs. Duquemin had made their home in Peachland for about twelve years and had taken part in all the activities of the town. Two weeks ago they left to make their home in Kelowna. After a very pleasant afternoon, the ladies served a dainty tea before leaving for home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fuels returned from the coast Friday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Fridge, arrived last week to spend a few days at the home of Mrs. Fridge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Topham Sr.

ANGLICANS HOLD DEANERY PARLEY AT WESTBANK

WESTBANK—Mrs. G. W. Stubbs, president of St. George's Women's Auxiliary, welcomed the fifty women who attended the Okanagan Deanery meeting of the Anglican church held recently at Westbank. Coming from points as far afield as Salmon Arm and the border, the women met to discuss methods relative to women's auxiliary work and to find better methods for carrying on the work of the church.

Canon F. V. Harrison conducted the communion service and prayers, while Mrs. Harrison pointed out that the words, "the love of Christ constraineth us" as the greatest source of inspiration for each and all.

Mrs. Harrison also stressed the need for training of small children in the work of God, reminding the gathering that this is the most important task of all. It was regretted that a site had not been found to hold the girls' camp this summer.

The women brought their own lunch and their hostesses provided tea, coffee and salads. The Westbank women also served their guests with afternoon tea at the close of the session, which it was decided to make an annual affair to be held on the last Thursday in May.

Mrs. J. A. Maddock, of Westbank, returned to her home recently following a holiday spent at the coast.

JUNIOR PUPILS GIVE RECITAL

Junior pupils of Dr. Ivan Beadle, Kelowna School of Music, presented an interesting and instructive recital featuring both instrumentals and vocals, a week ago last Friday evening in the United Church Hall.

Assisted occasionally throughout the program by more experienced senior students of the school, those taking part in the delightful program included Rondeau Brown, Joyce Ackertund, Llew Thompson, Marion Reid, Dick Bury, Dale Gregory, Shirley Dahlgren, Buddy Meckling, Sandy McKay, Donna Flintoft, Karen Loken, Donna Gregory, Catherine Clark, Robert Wilson, Lorraine Ochs, Pat Ferguson, Julia Schurr, Jean Ritchie, Larry Hewlett, Stan Fenton and Doreen Campbell at the piano.

Violin arrangements were played by David Murdoch, James MacFarlane and Joan McKinley. Glenn Lewis, Eileen Folk, Mary Bury and Helen Heitzman starred in vocal selections, while Vernon Gorbey presented a few excellent arrangements on his trumpet. Senior members assisting in presenting this delightful recital included Miss Dorothy Jacobson and Miss Joyce Beadle, vocalists, Mrs. J. N. MacFarlane and Mr. Arnold Aitkens, cellists.

Wrestling Comes Back To Kelowna Tonight For First Time In Years

Ladies need have no fear about being conspicuous by their presence at Memorial Arena tonight when the six-man professional wrestling team goes through its cauliflower capers to bring back the grunt and groan game to Kelowna for the first time in many years.

Scores of feminine fans were on hand at the advance ticket sale wicket this morning to pick up their ducats for the three-bout show, billed to start at 8:30 tonight. This bears out the trend over the past decade where women have taken over the role of the more rabid wrestling fan, which role was held exclusively by the male since the days of Alexander the Great.

Tagged "Mad Anthony," "gentleman Tony" and the "World's Most Charming Wrestling Rascal," Tony Ross, 195 pounds, goes into the main event against Jack Kiser, 188 pounds, in a best of three falls, one hour time limit. Both squirmers are top drawing cards all over the Pacific Northwest.

The semi-windup, held to 45 minutes, also is a best of three falls affair between Vancouver's present Pacific Coast junior heavyweight champion, Jack McLaughlin, and Mexican Salvadore Flores of Mexico City.

McLaughlin tips the scale at 190 pounds and Flores come in at one pound less. McLaughlin successfully defended his title in a bout at Vancouver last week.

Pierre La Belle "The Body Beautiful" of the West Coast tumbling mats, hooks up with Billy Hunter of Vancouver in the opener.

All six breezed into the Okanagan on Friday, appeared in a battle royal and other bouts at Vernon Saturday and lolled around Kelowna yesterday, taking in the sights. They are to appear in Kamloops tomorrow night.

ceremonies, commencing with the enrollment of a new Cub, and concluding with the presentation of the King's Scout badge to the fully qualified Scout. As a marked contrast to the serious part of the program the meeting concluded with two games, a balloon race by the Cubs and a pursuit relay race by the Scouts. The affair concluded with the singing of God Save The King, bringing a very successful evening's program to a close.

A highly recommended new book that will provide Scouters with many stories to tell around the camp fire is "The Left Handshake," by Hilary St. George Saunders, author of "The Battle of Britain". It deals mainly with Scouting activities during the Second World War in Britain and elsewhere including Scouts underground in Europe. A beautifully bound copy was recently presented to Prime Minister St. Laurent and has been placed in the parliamentary library.

FALL FROM TREE FATAL
TO M. PERRET

Injuries sustained when he fell out of an apple tree last Friday on his orchard in East Kelowna proved fatal to Marcel Perret, 33 years of age. Rushed to hospital suffering from internal injuries, Mr. Perret died this morning.

Born in Duck Lake, Sask., he is survived by his wife. Remains are being shipped to Penticton for burial. Funeral services will be conducted from the Penticton Catholic church Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Day's Funeral Service is in charge of arrangements.

The Scouters' Council met for its final meeting of the season on Monday June 20th, with a very good attendance of leaders. Final details regarding the Scouts going to the Ottawa Jamboree were discussed, also the question of badges and examiners. Next meeting of the council will be in September, and will be the annual meeting with election of officers.

A joint meeting of the 1st Kelowna Scout troop and the 1st Kelowna Cub Pack was held in the Scout Hall on Tuesday June 21st. Parents and friends were invited to the meeting, which commenced at 7 p.m. This was the closing meeting for the season's Scouting activities.

The president of the Central Okanagan Boy Scout Association, Nigel Pooley, distributed badges and stars to Scouts and Cubs who had passed qualifying tests. The King's Scout Badge, one of the highest awards in Scouting, was presented to Scout Calvin Jess.

The evening's program started with the Scouts in horseshoe formation and the flag was broken, after which the Cubs were called into their circle for the Grand Howl. A new Cub, Kenneth Greenough, was enrolled, and gave his promise to "Akela" (the Cubmaster) that he would "do his best to keep the Cub Law and Promise." He received his Tenderpad badge, his scarf and his cap, and took his place in his Six. "Going-up Ceremony" followed, in which James MacFarlane passed up from the Cubs to the Scouts.

The Scout Troop then held the investiture of a new Tenderfoot, Michael Piddocke, who made his promise and received his badge, scarf and hat.

WIN FIRST PRIZES
RUTLAND RALLY

RUTLAND — Rutland Adanacs and Kelowna's Club 13 were the big money winners here during the baseball and softball tournaments staged as part of the day-long activities for Rutland Rally and Cherry Festival on Dominion Day.

By virtue of an 8-3 victory over the Kelowna Cubs in the final game, the Adanacs won $50 and the Lloyd-Jones trophy. Windfield made the final game by blanking Rutland Cubs 1-0 in the first game.

When Oyama was unable to field a team for the second game, many of Rutland's oldtime ball players banded together for the fixture against the Adanacs. It turned out to be one of the comedy highlights of the day and almost an upset for the Adanacs. Final score was Adanacs 8, Oldtimers 7.

Club 13 rode over Rutland Rovers in the first game 4-0, mainly on the one-hit job of Ken Rees. Black Bombers made the final against Club 13 with a 7-5 win over the Kelowna Elks.

Bombers gave the Thirteens a real run in the final before bowing out 6-5. First money was $30; second $20.

BOY
COLUMN

Summer camps are the topic of the day just now, and the 1st Kelowna troop is camping this year on Shuswap Lake, from July 1st to 10th. Why troops choose to camp so far away from home is perhaps not hard to understand, from the boy's point of view, as the distance gives more of a feeling of adventure to the outing, but from the point of view of parents and executive officers who like to visit the camps it is very inconvenient.

The development of some suitable permanent camp site on Okanagan Lake would assist the situation.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

GLENMORE IRRIGATION

The Editor,
Kelowna Courier,
Kelowna, B.C.

Dear Sir:

At a meeting held in the irrigation building in Glenmore, on the day before it burned down, a full discussion took place on the advisability of making some changes in the method of distributing water.

The chair was taken by Mr. G. H. Moubrey and Trustee R. W. Corner acted as secretary, as the manager was called away to the big flame at the headgate where it was reported that a bad leak had developed.

The trustees were asked as a committee at the last annual water meeting to find out what other districts were doing with regard to switching of water to non-irrigated lands. Trustee Ritchie explained what the Vernon District was doing; Trustee James Snowsall explained the Winfield system, and Trustee Guy H. Reed, also spoke.

Trustee R. W. Corner explained at some length the South East Kelowna Irrigation District method— which the trustees considered would be suitable for Glenmore.

Mr. E. Hartwick objected to the new move as it was necessary for him to change his method of watering his hay meadows. Every person at the meeting was asked to give an opinion, and after a full discussion a vote was taken to determine whether the water users approved the trustees' new policy with respect to non-irrigated land.

There were 18 votes for and 5 against the trustees' new policy, with the five trustees themselves being in favor but not voting.

Yours truly,
G. H. MOUBRAY,
Chairman of the meeting.

AIR CADET BAND COMING FOR REGATTA

One of the featured bands at this year's Regatta will be the Revelstoke Air Cadet drum and bugle band which will be in the city for the two Regatta days.

The Revelstoke Air Cadet Squadron, sponsored by the Rotary Club, have had a first class band for several years. The band was highly commended for the fine performance it gave at the recent annual inspection by RCAF and Air Cadet League officials from Vancouver.

The Kelowna visit will be the first out of town appearance the boys will have had. Arrangements for the band to visit Kelowna were made through the combined efforts of the Regatta committee, F/O Bill Baker, Officer Commanding the Kelowna Air Cadets and F/L Stewart Hubbard, O.C. Revelstoke Air Cadets.

The Kelowna squadron of Air Cadets will take part in this year's parade in view of the fact the Revelstoke band will be guests of the Kelowna cadets," stated F/O Baker.

"As a rule, in past years, the Kelowna Air Cadets have refrained from participating in the summer parade due to the fact several of the boys are away vacationing or working," he said.
